

Sons Of Veterans Renew Their Stand Against Removal Of Plot From Lincoln Square By Council

The Gettysburg camp of the Sons of Union Veterans continues in "utter opposition" to the removal of the center plot in Lincoln Square.

That was evidenced in discussion at a meeting of the camp Friday evening — but members confessed themselves somewhat at a loss as to how to go about preventing council from removing the plot if it so desires.

Several members held that the "ownership" of the center plot should be determined. At one time the Grand Army of the Republic was granted possession of the center plot for the purposes of erecting a statue there, some of the older members recalled, and they held that an effort should be made to determine whether that ordinance still remains in effect.

Would Not Aid Traffic

The discussion was brought about as a result of reports from Monday's meeting of borough council at which council reported that a letter had been sent the state Department of Highways noting that council was still of the opinion that the center plot should be removed.

Commander Rev. Willis R. Doyle said that he and Past Commander Dr. Joseph H. Riley had prepared a statement giving again the position of the camp — that the center plot should be retained, that efforts should be continued to place a statue of Lincoln there, and that in the opinion of the camp removal of the center plot would cause more traffic difficulties than occur now. "York has been held as an example of the success of a removal of the center plot," Rev. Mr. Doyle commented. "It is to be noted that York also has one way traffic on its main street and does not permit left turns."

"As a result four lanes of traffic move from each of two directions through York's square. If we remove the plot we will still have one lane of traffic from each of the four directions. And if we make our square a simple intersection then we are either going to have the same problem we have now, or we are going to have to ban left turns, which will throw a larger burden on Middle and other streets a block off the square. Those streets are difficult enough to negotiate as it is, and more traffic will cause more traffic snarls there."

Named Department Chaplain

One member said: "It may be treason to suggest it, but what is probably most needed is a by-pass for traffic around the town. That would permit the trucks and through traffic to avoid the square and cut down traffic to an extent that the problem of the square would be solved."

Past Department Commander Jesse E. Snyder noted: "Council knows our position, and the position of most of the organizations in town. I thought that we had this problem solved, but apparently council does not respect the wishes of the townspeople. We can but remember that at election time."

Elected as members of the SUV at Friday's meeting were Robert M. Miller, Percy Miller, Kenneth W. Johns and Crosby Hartzell. Luther A. Stevens was reinstated.

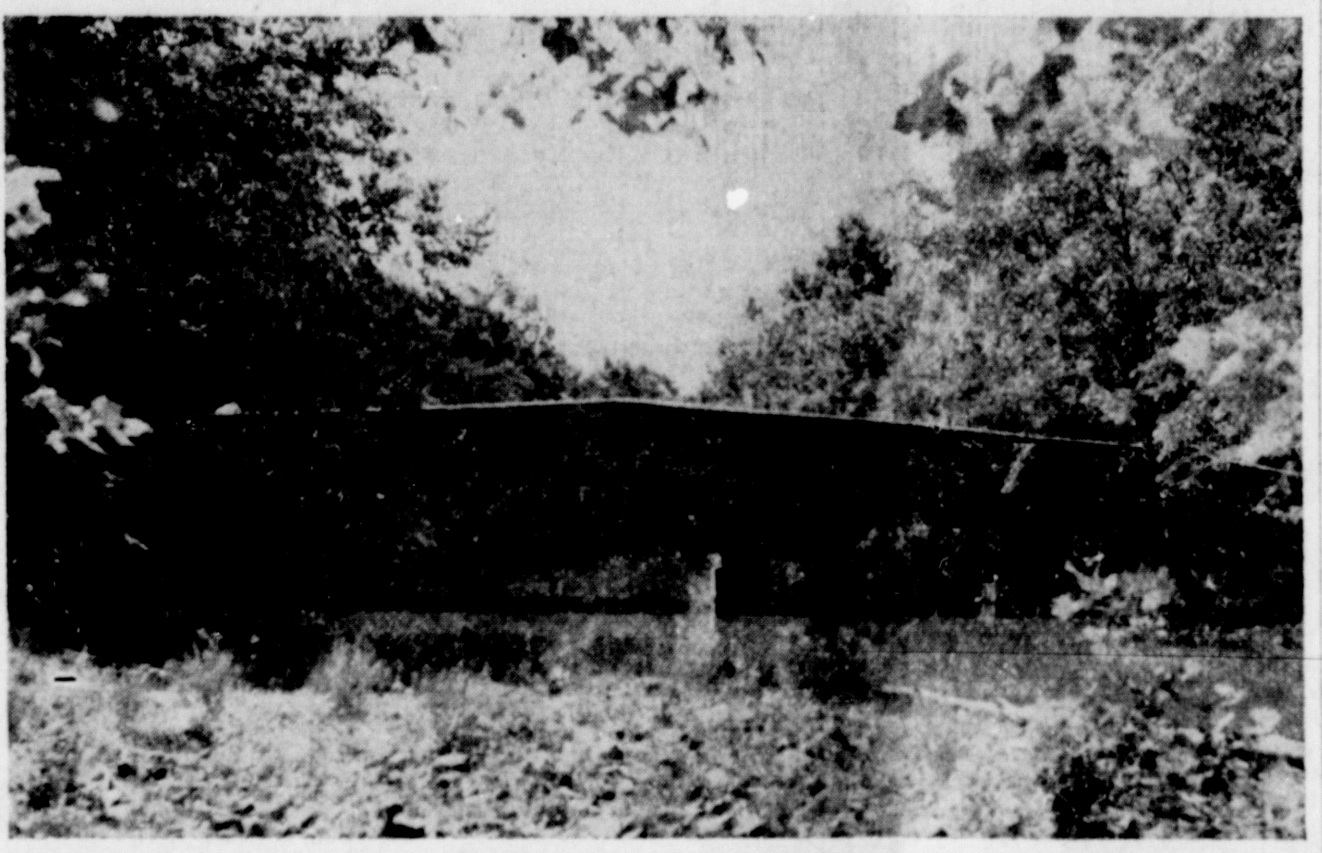

An announcement was received from Charles H. Dern, Philadelphia, naming the Rev. Willis R. Doyle as department chaplain of the SUV.

The next meeting of the group will be held August 3.

Old Stone Arch Bridge Is County Landmark

This picturesque, three-arch stone structure spans Bermudian creek in the northeast corner of Adams county about two miles east of York Springs, near Huntington Meeting house. Since the state Department of Highways razed the stone arch bridge on the Fairfield road in spite of local protests four years ago, only two bridges of that type are left in this county, the Bermudian span and a similar structure which crosses Little Conecago creek in Conecago township. The Bermudian bridge is maintained by the state and the Conecago township span by the county.

A few hundred feet downstream from the Bermudian span is Trostle's quarry where dinosaur tracks were found 15 years ago.

Story Of Last Reunion Of Blue And Gray Here Has Been Chronicled In Book By Roy

Never again will members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the "Boys in Blue," and the United Confederate Veterans, their gray-clad adversaries in the great fratricidal struggle of 1861-1865 called the Civil war, meet and clasp hands in any sort of a formal reunion. Those very few still living are too feeble.

But the events of that last great reunion, the 75th, held here at Gettysburg in 1938, on the spot where one of the bloodiest and hardest-fought battles of that war took place, have been preserved for posterity in a book, "The Last Reunion of the Blue and Gray," written by Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times, and published and distributed by The Bookmark.

Mr. Roy has done full justice not only to the events of the reunion, June 29 through July 6, 1938, but has traced for the first time many of the difficulties involved in bringing the old soldiers together. Opposition to such a reunion came from both north and south. How it was overcome, the magnitude of the reunion itself and the unquestioned success of the venture are interestingly and accurately told by the author.

Was Executive Secretary

Mr. Roy was in a position to tell this story with full authority and the facts at hand, since he was executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State commission for this reunion.

In a review of this book, written by Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, English professor of Gettysburg college and published recently in "Pennsylvania History," the quarterly journal of the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Dr. Fortenbaugh says:

"The author as 'executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State commission for the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and the Last Reunion of the Blue and Gray at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, in 1938,' here traces the course of

BEGIN HARVEST OF CHERRIES AS PEAS WIND UP

Adams county this week completed the pea harvest and began the processing of tart cherries.

While processors in the lower end of the county and at Gettysburg were putting the finishing touches to the canning of peas, the C. H. Musselman company and Knouse Foods began the annual processing of the county's cherry crop.

Musselman's began canning cherries at the Biglerville plant Tuesday, and Friday began a second shift as the fruit poured into the processing plant. At the Orrtanna plant of the Knouse corporation, processing began Thursday with full production scheduled to start Monday.

Cherries Good, Crop Is Big

Spokesmen for both the C. H. Musselman and Knouse plants said that the quality of the cherries was excellent. The county is scheduled to produce a large crop of cherries this year, with the trees loaded with top quality fruit. National Cherry Council estimates for Pennsylvania calls for an 18,000,000 pound crop, compared to 13,000,000 last year.

About half the cherries grown in the state are produced in this area. Hundreds of countians, many of them youngsters, engaged in harvesting the cherry crop, were receiving on an average about 25 cents for an eight quart bucket and "the picking is very good," according to reports.

What the orchard owners will receive for their crop was still a question, with the market reported as "far from stabilized." The C. H. Musselman company was offering a minimum guarantee of 6 1/2 cents a pound for No. 1's with the final price to be announced when the market clarifies. The minimum guarantee was less than the price offered a year ago, but was expected, due to the larger crop, to give the growers about equal income.

Pea Harvest At End

Reports on the pea crop indicated that production was a little higher in general than last year, but quality was a little lower, because of the wet weather which delayed the harvest.

The B. F. Shriver company at Littlestown completed its processing of peas on the Fourth of July. Production of sweet peas was reported as better than the Alaskas with a dry spell cutting down on that production. The Shriver company reported one grower producing three tons of sweet peas to an acre, but the average was about 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 tons, or about a quarter ton more than last year. Quality was described as fair, not substandard, but not up to the peak of perfection realized in some years.

Hanover Canning company plans to halt its pea canning about the middle of July, but is now obtaining its peas from Dauphin county, with the harvest completed in Adams and York counties. The crop was described as possibly a little under (Continued on Page 5)

SWISS TEACHER INTERESTED IN 4-H CLUB WORK

Vreny Kammer, Swiss kindergarten teacher, is finding Adams county quite an excellent place in which to study the activities of American farm youth.

The Swiss miss is one of the foreign youth exchange students sent here to study the American way of life and report back on it to her native Switzerland approximately six months from now.

As part of the program she is spending some time with Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. 4, one of Adams county's master farmers, and mother of a number of children who have been outstanding in 4-H work.

Interested In 4-H Work

Miss Kammer is particularly interested in the 4-H work in the United States. There is nothing of that nature in Switzerland, and, being the daughter of a farmer she hopes to be instrumental in establishing a similar organization in her native land when she returns there.

In Adams county she has accompanied the Murrens to many 4-H and Senior extension activities. Teresa Murren has been active in the Senior Extension. Francis Murren is a local 4-H leader. Thomas Murren is also active in the 4-H activities. Between the members of the family with whom she resides, she has been able to learn most of the ins and outs of local farm youth activities as gained by the Murrens over a period of years.

In addition she attended the National 4-H club camp in Washington and the leadership training school held at State college—going there with the Adams county representatives.

Notes Some Differences

Later she plans to spend some time in Washington state and attend the state 4-H club week and National club congress to round out her ideas on the 4-H.

The main thing that amazed her about agriculture in the U. S. as exemplified on the Murren farm near Brushstown, is the great extent to which agriculture is mechanized here. In Switzerland her father's farm is operated mostly by man and horse power. Here she is finding that most of the heavy chores are done by machinery. She arrived May 28 at the Murren farm and plans to stay there until August 1.

Another difference impresses her—the fact that in Switzerland she lives in the village, as do all farmers, who then go out to their fields. It seems strange, she noted, that the farm houses should be located out on the farms.

HURT IN CRASH

Mrs. Charlotte Jennings, Oak Ridge, Tenn., was treated at the Warner hospital this morning for a laceration above the left eye and a laceration of the hip suffered in an automobile accident at the intersection of Lincolnway West and Reynolds avenue on the battlefield. Two children with her escaped injury. State police said the accident involved only the one car.

Tokyo, July 7 (AP)—Spokesmen for Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said tonight the road Communist negotiators presumably are traveling to cease-fire talks in Korea will be subject to Allied air attack after midnight tonight (9 a.m. EST).

That gave the Reds 19 hours to travel the 139 bomb-pocked miles from their capital of Pyongyang to the meeting site, Kaesong. They presumably left Pyongyang at 5 a.m. (2 p.m. Friday, EST) by jeep and truck convoy.

The talks are scheduled to begin sometime Sunday morning after 9 a.m. (6 p.m. Saturday, EST).

There was no definite word that the Reds had left Pyongyang as scheduled, or that they had reached the five-mile neutral zone around Kaesong.

Time Limit Placed

Col. F. W. Moorman, secretary-general of United Nations supreme commander's staff said immunity to the road was granted "only for the purpose of insuring safe conduct of the Communist liaison group to Sunday's preliminary cease-fire talks. This immunity will terminate at midnight tonight."

Moorman said his statement was being issued "in order that there be no misunderstanding." Brig. Gen. Frank A. Allen, an official spokesman for Ridgway, said Moorman's statement was intended to make clear to the Reds that "they do not have free passage on that road for all time."

Allied commanders apparently felt the Communist team would be able to reach the Kaesong neutral zone before midnight.

The Highway, sprinkled with cast iron tire-puncturing devices, is a favorite Allied air target. It is the main supply route for Communist troops on the western front.

U.N. Delegation's Plans

The U.N. delegation to the preliminary talks will leave Seoul for Kaesong by jeep or helicopter Sunday, depending on the weather. Whether by road or air, the group will cross the Imjin river at 9 a.m. (6 p.m. Saturday, EST).

Two helicopters which may carry the Allied emissaries to Kaesong, left from an airport near Seoul late this afternoon for an undisclosed rendezvous point. One was a huge H-19, capable of carrying ten persons. The other was an H-5, which normally carries three.

General Ridgway's headquarters will be represented by three colonels and two interpreters. Their names have not been announced.

The Reds said they would send three officers, including a colonel, two interpreters and "reception personnel and assistants" to Kaesong.

There was little action on the battlelines Saturday. The Eighth Army communique reported only light contact as Allied patrols probed the forward areas.

But spread across the Korean peninsula were thousands of United Nations and Red troops. United Nations troops are reported ready for whatever comes.

Air reports said the Reds were pouring men and war material into North Korea from Manchuria in great lots. They were clogging the roads from the Manchurian border all the way to Sinanju, near Pyongyang.

The war was not yet over, but A.P. Correspondent Nate Polowetzky reported that a holiday air of hope and excitement swept U. S. Eighth Army headquarters. Pyongyang radio claimed Saturday night that Reds had shot down three U. S. warplanes Saturday. They did not say whether the planes were in the vicinity of the Pyongyang-Kaesong highway.

events which led from the original conception of the idea of a "last" reunion to the conclusion of its complex operation.

Tribute To General Lee

"Because of his position, the author has been able to gather authentic facts and figures, and to tell an interesting story in well-written form. The book is exceptionally well illustrated and attractively designed."

The book, in no small measure is additionally a tribute to General Harry Rene Lee, who served the Confederacy as an army sergeant, and was elected national commander of the United Confederate Veterans at Amarillo, Tex., where Mr. Roy was successful in winning Gen. Lee's support to the reunion. Unfortunately Gen. Lee died two months before the reunion, insisting to the last that he would be in Gettysburg.

At first unalterably opposed to any meeting of the Blue and Gray, Gen. Lee was convinced, and from Amarillo until he died was not only one of the strongest supporters of the reunion, but a staunch friend of Mr. Roy. The latter, through Gen. Lee's influence, was made an honorary "general" in the Confederate army.

(Mr. Roy has been vacationing in the South for the last week and this article was prepared and published without his knowledge.)

GARVER BLOCKS WHITE SOX FROM TOP OF LEAGUE

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
How about Ned Garver for the American league starter in Tuesday's all-star game?

If the St. Louis Browns ace isn't all-star, nobody is. With 11 wins for a last place club he represents exactly 50 per cent of St. Louis' 22 victories. Furthermore he beats the contenders.

Garver's 4-1 nod over Chicago in the second half of a twilight-night doubleheader last night was his third over the White Sox this season. It was the second time inside a week he barred the Sox from the American league lead. On July 1 he knocked them out of first place. Last night he kept them from passing New York.

Carrasquel Spiked
Bill Vecek celebrated the occasion of the Browns' first home game under his ownership with fireworks, free beer and soda and Garver. Ned saved the day for Bill after the Browns had lost the opener to Chicago, 4-3. Chico Carrasquel, the Sox' all-star shortstop, was spiked in the first game and retired for the night.

Of course, Manager Casey Stengel of the American all-stars may be overly impressed by Boston's Mel Parnell as a starting candidate after last night's goings at Fenway Park. Lefty Mel shut down the Yankees with nine hits, 6-2, while the Red Sox routed Eddie Lopat. Dom DiMaggio's two-run homer and Clyde Vollmer's two-run triple were the chief weapons.

Still the Yanks clung to the lead by seven percentage points with Boston only one game back and Cleveland a fast-closing fourth on Bobby Feller's 7-4 win over Detroit, his 12th.

Race Tightens
Here's the way they stand:

Won	Lost	Pct.	G.B.
New York	45	27	.625	-
Chicago	47	29	.618	-
Boston	45	29	.608	1
Cleveland	42	31	.575	3 1/2

The Red Sox' triumph was their sixth in a row over the Yanks at Fenway Park where the world champs have yet to win this year. Feller needed relief help from Lou Brissie to tuck away the Indians' 11th straight over the Tigers. If Bobby had any ideas of a second no-hitter, following his job on Detroit July 1, they vanished quickly. Dick Kryhoski, second man to face him, singled.

Senators Beat A's
The Indians broke up the game with three in the seventh to dispirit Detroit's largest crowd of the year—54,562 fans. Brissie came on when Feller weakened in the eighth. Washington cut loose with five runs after two were out in the eighth to rip Philadelphia, 6-3. Sam Mele's single tied the score and a double by Sam Dente and single by Gene Verble clinched it.

Gil Hodges, Brooklyn's home-run happy first baseman, continued his attack on Babe Ruth's all-time record as he hit No. 28 off Andy Hansen in a 6-2 win over the Phillies. Hodges now is four games in front of Ruth's 1927 pace.

Tie Record For Homers
New York, reeling from three straight losses at Brooklyn, came up with four runs in the eighth inning to trip Boston, 12-10 in a wild battle. The teams hit five home runs in the third inning to tie a major league record.

As a result of Brooklyn's night win, the Giants still trail the Dodgers by 7 1/2 games. The St. Louis Cards, 3-2 winners over Pittsburgh, are close behind, only a half game back of New York.

Cincinnati weathered a ninth-inning Chicago rally that chased winner Harry Perkowski and Frank Smith for a 4-2 edge over Paul Minner.

Trotting Records Broken At Goshen

Goshen, N. Y., July 7 (AP)—Three new world trotting records went into light harness racing's books today as the result of two fast miles by Star's Pride, four-year-old owned by E. Roland Harriman and Lawrence Sheppard.

The son of Worthy Boy, a recent stake winner at Roosevelt raceway, hung up the new standards for a half-mile track in winning the $10,000 Titan free-for-all trot on the final program of Historic track's grand circuit meeting yesterday.

Star's Pride, driven by Harry Pownall, won the race in straight heats. His time of 2:01 1/5 in the second heat was a new world record for any age trotter over a twice around oval and for four-year-olds. The old mark 2:01 1/4 was made by Dr. Spencer at Delaware, Ohio, in 1946.

The combined time of 4:03 4/5 for the two miles bettered the previous best of 4:06 4/5 made by the great trotting mare, Proximity, over the same track in 1948.

The Hagerstown Braves, solidly entrenched in first place in the Interstate league since the season's start, face a strong challenge for the No. 1 spot in a week-end series opening tonight with runnerup Allentown.

The second-place Canaries are only 3 1/2 games behind.

Wilmington, a game back in third place, tangles with Sunbury. Wilmington moved closer to the leaders by winning a double-header last night from cellar-dwelling Salisbury, 1-0 and 2-1. The nightcap was a 10-inning affair.

Hagerstown took advantage of four York errors and pounded three pitchers for 16 hits to score a 12-3 victory.

Allentown lost 3-2 to Lancaster with Dale Steen besting Ralph Beard in a tight pitching duel.

Sunbury and Harrisburg split, the Senators winning the opener 7-1 while Sunbury earned a 3-0 shutout in the nightcap.

NEW RACE PLANT AT HAGERSTOWN FOR NEXT MEET

Hagerstown, Md., July 7 (AP)—D. Eldred Rinehart, president of the Hagerstown Fair association, and his associates, were given assurance by the contractors that the new "million dollar" Hagerstown racing plant will be completed in time for the opening of the 10-day race meeting, which gets underway here on July 31 and runs through August 11.

Everything will be new at the Hagerstown plant. The old grandstand, clubhouse and paddock have been razed and in place of the old buildings, a plant that has few equals in the eastern half-mile circuit has gone up.

Constructed of steel and concrete, the new grandstand will have a seating capacity of 3,200, not including the box seats. There is a ground floor concourse and a mezzanine floor. On both floors will be located mutual departments with cashiers as well as sellers.

Regardless of the weather, fans will be under cover at all times. The clubhouse will seat 200 in the boxes and is arranged in four decks. On the mezzanine floor, the mutual will be located in the rear of the clubhouse.

Jockey quarters are located over the ultra-modern paddock which will also house the weigh clerk and the custodian of the silks.

STIFF PENALTY JOLTS WALKER

New Orleans, July 7 (AP)—Southern Association President Charles Hurth describes his action in suspending Atlanta Manager Dixie Walker for 90 playing days as dictated by the rules.

Walker drew the suspension and a $100 fine yesterday for allowing his players to abuse an umpire. Walker took news of his suspension hard.

He said in Atlanta, "why, you know, 90 days suspension just never occurred to me. I had ideas about what it might be, but not 90 days. There is nothing I can say. I'll tell you, though, I certainly feel it."

Walker, once the pride of Brooklyn, played for 15 years in the majors before drawing a fine. The suspension grew out of a June 29 game against Mobile. Umpire Paul Roy called a Mobile player safe at home plate because he said Atlanta catcher Leroy Jarvis was obstructing the basepath.

"The Atlanta team almost to a man charged me," Roy said in his report to Hurth. "I repeatedly warned him (Walker) to get his men away from me and let the game get underway. Manager Walker, it seemed, lost all sense of reasoning." Roy declared the game forfeited to Mobile after Atlanta players failed to heed his order to play ball during the allotted time.

Burke Holds Lead For Canadian Finals

Toronto, July 7 (AP)—Jack Burke, the tousle-haired comeback kid from Texas, hung onto a two-stroke lead over defending champion Jim Ferrier and Fred Hawkins as 63 golfers moved into the final round of the Canadian open championship today.

Burke, the sensation of the first two rounds, almost blew his lead yesterday with sloppy play that cost him three strokes right at the outset. But he snapped back with three birdies on the last four holes for a par 72.

"It's hard to play sub-par golf three days in a row," said the 28-year-old pro from Houston, Texas, who has 132-72—204—twelve under par—for three rounds.

At his heels were Ferrier from San Francisco with 137-69—206 and Hawkins from El Paso, Texas, with 135-71—206.

Shirley Fry And Doris Hart Meet

Wimbledon, Eng., July 7 (AP)—Doris Hart and Shirley Fry, partners and pals on and off the tennis courts, ignore their friendship long enough today to battle for the world's tennis title in the finals of the all-England championships.

One thing is certain. The winner will make it a twin victory for the United States in the singles competition for yesterday 26-year-old Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., won the men's championship with a decisive 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 pasting of Australia's Ken McGregor.

The triumph, achieved in 61 minutes, just about made Savitt the top ranking amateur in the world and a cinch for a place on the United States Davis cup team to be named Monday.

Savitt also holds the Australian title, won last January when he again beat McGregor. He is the first player of any nation to win both the Australian and Wimbledon classics in the same year since Don Budge's "grand slam" in 1938. And Dick will have a chance to equal Budge's feat in the U. S. championships at Forest Hills late in August.

Brooklyn To Hold Try-Out School

Fresco Thompson, vice president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and director of the Brooklyn minor league clubs, announces that the Brooklyn Try-Out School will be held at Stumpf field, Lancaster, on July 10, 11, 12 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. under the direction of Phil Weinert, Brooklyn scout, and Charley Gelbert, baseball coach at Lafayette college and recently signed as a scout for the Brooklyn Dodgers, assisted by Ed Head, manager of the Lancaster Red Roses.

All boys between the ages of 16 to 22 within this section, including Adams county, are invited to attend the school.

It will be necessary for all boys to bring their own uniforms, gloves and shoes. Any boys who are signed to any Brooklyn organization clubs will have their expenses refunded.

Sports Roundup

By TED SMITS

New York, July 7 (AP)—Tommy Holmes, the new manager of the Boston Braves, knitted his dark eyebrows together and said in a bland, almost squeaky voice:

"I don't want to sound sentimental. But I took the job as Hartford manager at the start of this year because I wanted to stay in baseball all my life. I figured I had some major league playing left in me but I wanted to get the managerial side of it."

"I've been sort of managing for the last two or three years. I mean, figuring out what should be done in each situation. Baseball is the greatest second-guessing game in the world. Everyone thinks he's a manager."

"Like A House Afire"

"Well, I figured I would stay in Hartford a year or so and then maybe move up to Triple-A or maybe come back to the majors as a coach. All of a sudden those kids in Hartford started to go like a house afire and the next I knew I got this job."

"Those kids made me look good and I won't forget it. I have those boys in mind and I'm gonna have those boys playing for me in the majors some day."

"I told them when I went there: 'Is there a guy on this team who can't outrun me? Is there a guy who can't outthrow me? Aren't there three or four maybe who can out-hit me? And I can play major league ball. Get smart,' I said to 'em."

Brooklyn Can Be Beaten

"This game is mental. The difference between the majors and the minors is just a little finesse. Why, there's a guy in Hartford right now who can throw harder than any pitcher in the majors. Name of Gene Conley. He has a 12-2 record. But I'm not going to bring him up today. That would be too fast. I want him to pitch in the Triple-A next year to get that little extra finesse."

"Now about the Braves. We've been beating ourselves. We haven't been hitting. I'm working with the boys to get a little more action. I don't intend to make any big changes right away. I brought up this young kid, Johnny Logan, to strengthen our infield. He's a good glove man."

"This National league race. Brooklyn looks terrific. But you can never tell. Brooklyn has a great ball club, but it can be beaten. I concede them nothing, particularly if we can straighten ourselves out for the final stretch."

TWO VISITING SOFTBALL 9'S TO PLAY HERE

A benefit softball doubleheader between the Waynesboro All-Stars and West A. A. nine of York will be staged on the Recreation park diamond next Wednesday evening, the first game starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The games were arranged by the Exchange club. A free will offering will be lifted, proceeds to be placed into the charity fund of the local club.

The contestants on Wednesday are keen rivals. Waynesboro is reported to be importing a star softball hurler from Hagerstown for one of the games. The York outfit is a member of the Bi-State league and is reputed to have an unusually strong team.

Each team will bring an umpire for the game.

The local Softball league game and Midget Baseball league game carded for that evening have been postponed to enable the visiting teams to use the field.

St. John's Church Will Hold Picnic

The church school of St. John's church, New Chester, will hold its annual outing Sunday at the South Mountain fairgrounds. The school session will be held at 11 a.m. in pavilion No. 1 with the lesson taught by the pastor, Rev. Alton M. Leister. After a basket lunch there will be planned recreation and refreshments.

TEN YEARS AGO

Site For Statue Is Dedicated:
Dedication of the site of a proposed $200,000 memorial statue of General James Longstreet, one of three corps commanders of Confederate forces under General Lee at the battle of Gettysburg, was held Wednesday afternoon on the historic battlefield where the North and South clashed 78 years ago. The ceremonies were arranged as a climax to a parade of veterans and service units and 1,700 men of the 71st Coast Artillery—successor to the old Pennsylvania 71st Infantry which helped turn back Pickett's charge at Gettysburg in July 1863. Mary Pickford, motion picture actress, and General Julius F. Howell, 95-year-old commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, turned the first shovels of earth in groundbreaking ceremonies.

Major General Robert H. Hudgins presided with the Rev. Norbert Sulowski giving the invocation. Mrs. James Longstreet ripped a cover from a model and oil painting of the Longstreet memorial, and Miss Mary Kearny, a granddaughter of the Union general Philip Kearny, unveiled a photographic copy of Howard Chandler Christy's painting of General Longstreet "Dixie" was being played by the 71st Coast Artillery band.

Francis P. Matthews, supreme knights of the Knights of Columbus then took over as presiding officer. H. Breckenridge Long, assistant secretary of state, and representative of President Roosevelt, did not attempt to deliver his prepared speech, but it was announced it would be included in a record of the ceremonies.

Those who remained in the shelter of the speakers' stand during the downpour, witnessed a ceremony that was to have come at the end of a lengthy program.

Scheduled addresses by General Howell, Col. E. W. Timberlake, Vice Commander Edward R. Sterling, representative of the American Legion; greetings from William M. Nixon, commander-in-chief of the G.A.R., and two Longstreet symposiums were not held. The benediction which was to have been given by the Rev. Ralph R. Gresh was not given.

The parade was the largest staged here since the 75th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg in 1938.

The regimental band, a band from the Carlisle Medical Post, the Junior Legion Drum and Bugle Corps and the Drum and Bugle Corps of the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts of St. James church, United Spanish War veterans and members of the Gettysburg Girl Reserve clubs marched in the column and were then transported to the Longstreet Memorial site.

Swope-Zinn: Miss Dorothy Louise Zinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Zinn, Shippensburg, was married Monday in the Shippensburg Messiah United Brethren church to Samuel F. Swope, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Swope, Gettysburg. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward E. Spatz.

The bride was attended by Miss Jane Fleck. Best man to the groom was his brother, Richard Swope. The couple will reside in Shippensburg.

Warren-Hinkle: Benjamin Hinkle, 222 East Middle street, has announced the marriage of his daughter, Mildred, to Elmer L. Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Warren, York street.

The ceremony was performed at the Church of God parsonage, Westminster, Monday evening at 7 o'clock, by the Rev. Mr. Gonzio.

Following the wedding a reception was held at Panorama Inn at which 30 persons were present.

Yingling-Rifle: Mrs. Thelma Rifle, Gettysburg, daughter of W. L. Adair, and Francis Yingling, also of Gettysburg, were married in Westminster, Maryland, on Friday by the Rev. Dr. Paul W. Quay.

Mr. Yingling is a battlefield employee.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
LITTLE THINGS

We are apt to place small importance upon little things, but little things are the children of the big things. Little things grow up! I thought of this a few days ago when in Michigan I looked out upon the vast plant of the Ford Motor Company and recalled a visit there when Mr. Henry Ford showed me his tiny invention of an automobile that was later to revolutionize automobile production.

There is no study so interesting and inspiring as to read of the little things that have become big things. The first 5 and 10 cent store in upper New York was a failure but the idea, though concerning little things, later became a national institution.

Elbert Hubbard once wrote a simple line that had a great deal of meaning to it. He said: "Do the best that you can, and be kind." If that suggestion could be universally followed out, there wouldn't be so many unhappy people in the world. Little kindnesses, and deeds inspired by thoughtfulness, do so much to put a pleasant and happy cast upon the face of the world.

Under the microscope little things are so revealed that their importance has led to many a discovery that has meant increased health to millions, and the saving of as many lives as well. Dangerous little enemies to life like to hide. The piccolo is a small instrument but, in an orchestra, if its player strikes the wrong key it is instantly noted by the great conductor.

That famous sentence "Trifles make perfection, but perfection is no trifle" is something we can well give long thought to. It's the little beginnings, gradually cumulating, that later blossom out in great manufacturing plants, great business blocks, and world-wide commerce. Small beginnings have always been the key to later triumphs.

We cannot afford to neglect the little things. Big men were nourished by them in their youth, but never do they fail to recognize their value throughout life.

Just Folks

THE WATER'S FINE!

"Come in! The water's fine!" they shout.
But when you're only twelve years old
The water's fine beyond a doubt.
It's just the old who think it cold.

When you're so happily alive,
The water's warm, you may be sure.
But when you've come to sixty-five
The air has gentler temperature.

Time was—now gone forevermore—
I would have joined those youngsters bold,
But now I stay upon the shore.
To me the warmest water's cold.

W. M. Lott Heads Farm Advisory Defense Group: William M. Lott, of Gardner's R. D., has been appointed chairman of the Agricultural Advisory Defense committee for Adams county with 10 other counties named on the group which is to serve as the source of contact for county farmers who are meeting with farm labor problems.

The Pennsylvania Agricultural Advisory Defense Council designated the county group and through the state group arrangements have been made under which available labor may be procured through the offices of the State Employment Service and the County Assistance Board.

The county committee includes Chairman Lott, John C. Bream, H. F. Snyder, H. C. Brinton, Donald Garretson, John Leinart, David Hykes, A. C. Keefer, Harvey Rafter, Mrs. Allen Walker and Mrs. J. S. Deatrick.

U. S. Navy Arrives in Iceland Today: Washington, D. C., July 7 (AP)—Forces of the U. S. Navy arrived in Iceland today.

In accordance with an understanding between President Roosevelt and the prime minister of Iceland, naval forces moved in to supplement and eventually replace British forces which have been stationed there to insure the adequate defense of that country.

Mr. Roosevelt informed Congress that the United States could not permit "the occupation by Germany of strategic outposts in the Atlantic to be used as air or naval bases for eventual attack against the Western Hemisphere."

Indiantown Gap, Pa., July 7 (AP)—Indiantown Gap Military reservation Friday was named as the separation center for 18,000 Pennsylvanians to be discharged from the Enlisted Reserve corps.

A spokesman at the huge army base said 1,000 Pennsylvania reservists will be separated this month upon return from overseas theatres.

The number will be increased to 2,500 during August and to 3,000 in September. The remaining 11,500 will be separated in the last three

This year the average motorist celebrates his independence by facing more "no parking" signs than ever before.

Safe Stopping First

Not until drivers learn to stop more skillfully will they be able to drive faster with safety.

This is the plain truth which is being demonstrated all too tragically. High speed stopping calls for real skill. Part of the problem is failure to realize that the braking "system" isn't confined to the individual brakes. It includes compression of the engine, condition of the tire treads, the type of tread used, tire pressure, road surface, weight distribution, and steering. Unless all these factors are in proper balance it is not possible to stop a car in safety.

In saying that we often drive too fast for conditions is oversimplifying it because the important point is to know what the conditions are. This calls for imagination. In addition, there is the need for knowing one's own reaction time—the time needed to react to danger by starting to apply the brakes. Closely related to all this is the need for avoiding over-braking, and if the car isn't steered wisely during the stopping process there's a good chance of throwing it off balance.

Let Them Dry Out

If you use rubber mats over the floor covering and the car has been out in heavy rain make sure that the covering isn't wet. When I lifted out the mats for cleaning the other day I found that a wet spot of the covering had become riddled with mildew. I doubt if I can get rid of it. The rubber mats do not allow sufficient air to dry the covering, so lift them out if necessary.

More and more motorists are having their cars' crankcases cleaned by removal of the oil through the filler pipe rather than by draining. . . . Special glass now available in the windows and windshield of one of the popular makes cuts out over 40 per cent of the heat from the sun, not to mention the glare. . . . More parts are being manufactured for the purpose of encouraging re-use of original assemblies and in order to save materials. . . . Use of puncture-proof inner tubes and tubeless tires is making motorists more conscious of the importance of checking over the treads frequently for embedded nails and sharp objects. Unless these are removed they can cause serious trouble with the puncture-resistant type of tire or tube.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"What you hear in an automobile depends to a large extent on where you happen to be driving. I always get a laugh out of customers telling me about noises they hear on the road but which they never hear in the city. The racket of traffic blacks it out."

"Many car noises originate in the road surface. It isn't just a matter of tire rumble. Vibrations may be set up, affecting equipment on the dash or anything that may be loose in the car itself. Many motorists note valve and tappet noises which come in when the car is running along easily with the engine loafing."

Except For Oil

Where the oil goes too often proves mystifying. Sometimes the leakage is around a loose cover on a fuel filter, or at one of the connections.

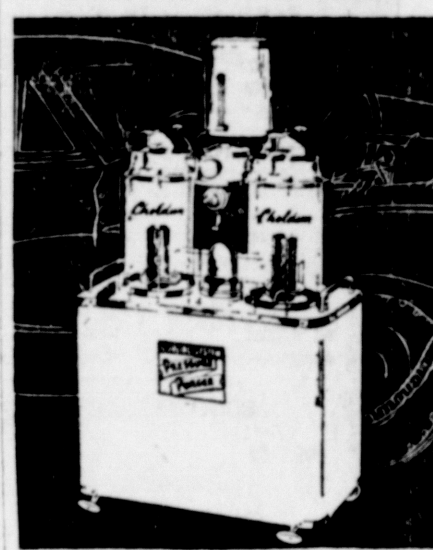

In another instance the leakage was around the timing gear cover case, even after the cover had been removed and replaced with a new and better gasket. The mechanic had failed to open up the oil return hole from the timing gear case to the motor. Much oil is lost into the clutch housing past defective rear main bearing oil retainers. Then there is the loss out the crankcase vents when the system is clogged or there is too much air suction around the lower vent.

Parts books are, of course, not available to everyone, but if you have a chance to study the parts of your car by name it will be of real help to you whenever you are visiting the parts department. It is surprising how many people can't get certain parts for their cars just because they do not know what to ask for. While the parts men have a prodigious memory they can be misled by people who call a bushing a gasket or a screw a bolt. Sometimes it helps to make a rough sketch of what you want.

You Never Can Tell

In the years that I have been driving cars I've heard many amusing stories about experiences with the police, but one that strikes me as having an especially human touch is the recent tale of a close friend of mine who, annoyed at the lagging of several cars ahead of him on a throughway, decided to get ahead and go the legal 55-miles-an-hour limit. You have probably guessed that a patrol car was at the head of the line. My friend does not know why he did it but just as he overtook the officer he instinctively waved his hand in a friendly gesture. Imagine his surprise when the officer returned the salute. More-over the officer than pulled over to the side of the road and let the other cars go ahead. Apparently he did not realize that he was holding up the procession.

RADIO

New York, July 7 (AP) — Proceeding with plans to expand its color schedule, CBS is making ready to move outdoors for its first remote pickups. All its color programs thus far have come from the studios.

The event will be horse racing, which, incidentally, was one of the first if not the first, sporting contests to be televised in black and white. That was the English Derby at Epsom Downs in 1931.

The first colorcast will be a week from today, to be followed at weekly intervals by three others. The origination point is Monmouth Park, Oceanport, N. J. The series also will put color on the Saturday schedule for the first time.

This week-end's quota of shows for summer include these radio items:

Tonight: NBC — 9:30 Bob and Ray, new hour comedy series of light satire and nonsense sketches with Bob Elliott and Ray Goulding as replacement for Dennis Day and Judy Canova shows, singer Peggy Lee first guest; 11:15 another in the silver jubilee on NBC programs, guest Elaine Carrington, author of numerous daytime serials, interview conducted by Ben Grauer with Sam Kaufman as producer.

CBS — 8 Rate Your Mate, Joey Adams Quiz show moved from Sundays to fill for Gene Autry; 8:30 Adventure of Philip Marlowe revived to replace Hapalag Cassidy; 9:30 Mr. Aladdin, new drama about minor miracles, first one "The Miracle of the Multi-Colored Eye."

Sunday: CBS — 9 Broadway's My Beat, a who-dun-it, moved from Saturdays to the Corliss Archer time; 9:30 Contented Concert, and 10 Music For You, both at new times.

Monday: ABC — 4:30 p.m. Perfect Husband, new Monday through Friday series in which wives act as guests on behalf of their husbands, replacing Welcome To Hollywood.
